OUR GUEST SPEAKERS

- ◆ Beverly Adams has been practicing law for over eleven years. Her practice focuses on civil litigation, including contract disputes, construction litigation, domestic and employment law. She also serves as general counsel to four small businesses. In that capacity, she maintains each company's corporate identity, drafts and reviews contracts, undertakes collection of accounts receivable (including filing liens), and prosecutes and defends any litigation that may arise. She is a graduate of Georgia State University College of Law and holds a Master's Degree from Mercer University.
- ◆ Fred Stearns has been practicing law for almost 30 years. He practices in the areas of construction litigation and insurance coverage. He has many years of experience representing owners, general contractors, architects, surety companies and other entities on a wide range of construction projects, including highways, bridges, military installations, sewer treatment plants and oil refineries. He has also defended U.S. L&H and Jones Act claims. Mr. Stearns has participated as a lecturer at numerous continuing legal education seminars on construction law topics. He is a graduate of The University of Georgia School of Law.
